Summary:

Naomi qualified as a Solicitor in 1999 and worked in white collar crime in London. After a career break to have children Naomi transferred to the Bar in 2017.

Naomi completed her pupillage at Spire Barristers and joined as a tenant in September 2018.

Naomi undertakes public and private law children work. She has been instructed on a number of complex Local Authority cases involving multiple siblings where a variety of placement options have been proposed.

Naomi has a particular interest in private law and has a strong and natural rapport with clients, including vulnerable clients who require sensitive handling. Naomi is instructed on many private law cases and offers a positive and creative approach in her resolution of such issues. Naomi has a strong connection with work where she is instructed to represent the child.

Naomi's background enables her to bring the benefit of her own experience to her work. This is evident in her attitude and her interaction with those she represents.
